

REMEMBERING THE SCIENTIFIC CONTRIBUTIONS OF PROFESSOR MILES WHITTINGTON, 15 SEPTEMBER 2022,
13.00 – 18.00 (followed by a buffet reception),
RON COOKE HUB, UNIVERSITY OF YORK

PROGRAMME

- 13.00 Welcome
Professor Una Macleod, Dean, Hull York Medical School
- 13.10 Overview of the life and science of Miles Whittington
Roger Traub, IBM Research Centre, New York, USA
- 13.50 Miles and me: a scientific journey
Nancy Kopell, William Fairfield Warren Distinguished Professor, Boston University, USA and Co-Director of the Centre for Computational Neuroscience and Neural Technology (CompNet)
- 14.10 From molecules in Heidelberg to networks at IBM and oscillations in London: decades of a friendship and being in sync
Hannah Monyer, Professor of Neurobiology, University of Heidelberg and Director of the Department of Clinical Neurobiology, University Hospital Heidelberg, Germany
- 14.30 How a trip to Leeds led to scientific adventures, lengthy seminars (lunches), a new technology company and friendship
Gary Green, Emeritus Professor, University of York; Director, Innovision-IP Ltd
- 14.50 I've had a brainwave
Sangeeta Chwala, Senior Lecturer in Biology, University of York
- 15.10 Refreshments
- 15.45 The art of collaboration
Susan Aldworth, Artist
- 16.00 Gamma oscillations, glutamate and gap junctions; a scientific life excited
Mark Cunningham, Ellen Mayston Bates Professor of Neurophysiology of Epilepsy, Trinity College Dublin
- 16.10 Oscillations, memories and Miles
Fiona LeBeau, Lecturer, University of Newcastle
- 16.20 Miles of cortical oscillations
Anita Lewis, former PhD student of Miles Whittington
- 16.30 Those that fire together wire together - building the networks to drive productive academic-industry collaborations
Fiona Randall, former PhD student of Miles Whittington
- 16.40 Up-states, but no down with Miles Whittington
Roland Jones, Emeritus Professor of Neuropharmacy, University of Bath
- 16.50 Miles; a supervisor and a friend
Stephen Hall, former PhD student of Miles Whittington
- 17:00 Remembering Miles
A conversation facilitated by Deborah Smith, former Pro Vice Chancellor Research, University of York
- 17.30 Closing remarks
Professor Una Macleod, Dean
- 18.00 Buffet reception
- 20.00 Event close